Tyco Fire Protection Products recognized by American Security Today for solutions that address evolving safety and security threats

WESTMINSTER, MA (December 12, 2016) – Tyco Fire Protection Products, a leader in fire and life safety, was honored by American Security Today with two 'ASTORS' Homeland Security Awards. The SIMPLEX ES-Enabled Fire Alarm System was a Platinum winner in “Best Fire & Safety System” and a Gold winner in “Best Mass Notification System.” The ASTORS highlight outstanding product development achievements and new technologies that address growing homeland security threats.

Fire alarm systems play an essential role when it comes to protecting people, property and assets within a facility. SIMPLEX ES fire alarm systems, developed and manufactured by Tyco Fire Protection Products, provide advanced, innovative technologies, and are unique in their ability to grow and expand as buildings change and life-safety needs evolve. Some of these comprehensive and highly flexible fire protection and safety solutions capabilities include:

- Added power, internet connectivity and remote service capabilities. The SIMPLEX ES platform provides advanced technologies that meet the needs of installing contractors, facility managers and building owners – improving serviceability, reducing costs, saving time and enhancing operational efficiency.
- Easier installation and upgrades. SIMPLEX ES panels support addressable technology that makes systems easier to design, install, upgrade and maintain.
- Advanced addressable notification technology that enables appliance self-testing and targeted emergency message delivery. SIMPLEX TrueAlert ES notification now includes the fire alarm industry's first addressable speakers with individual on/off control and high-quality audio output – flexible, reliable, cost-effective and highly scalable.
- Advanced LED appliances compliant with the latest NFPA code requirements for flash duration and strobe synchronization.
- Integrated life-safety information management that brings critical applications together, including fire alarm, voice, access control and video.
- Voice systems that can serve as the cornerstone of an integrated, multi-layered and cost-effective mass notification solution to improve emergency preparedness and response.
